

Khadija Bano Ahmed is an educator and activist with over 25 years of experience working with, teaching and mentoring young people. She has taught English Literature at the Beacon House, Bayview Academy and Nixor and is widely recognised for her training, teaching, mentoring and development skills. She is certified in neuro-linguistic programming which comes in as a successful tool when managing teens. Khadija was on the curating and on-ground team for the Kara Film Festival from 2002 - 2007 and was involved in a range of roles from concept development to fund-raising. She enjoys the arts and theatre and other than her involvement with high school productions, she has also worked on a number of documentaries, particularly on research and subtitles. Khadija is passionate about social causes and has been active in fund-raising for local NGOs like Faith and Imkaan. She has served on the Board of the Central Jail school for incarcerated children of inmates and on the Board of JoyGPS, Aahung, an NGO that focuses on sexual and reproductive health rights. She has been a part of WOW Pakistan curatorial team and leads the speed mentoring capsules with schools and colleges.